Coming up next...

Puzi was badly injured during the fight with the black assassin. He had no choicebut to consume the Death Pill to prolong 3 days of lifespan. However, he was glad that he managed to kept Zhang XiaoFan and Lin Jing Yu alive.

Nevertheless, he felt disappointed of this life for being unable to solve the mystery of life and death which could be done by combining the essence of Buddhism and Taoism teachings. All of a sudden, an idea came to him, which is he can let one of the children inherit the essence of Buddhism teaching from him, then leave that child to be discovered by GreenCloud Clan. Hence, that child will become a GreenCloud Clan disciple, and he would be able to combine both Taoism and Buddhism teachings.

After a short hesitation, he chose Zhang XiaoFan as the inheritor ..

Celestial Destroyer Graphic Novel

COMING SOON

Finally we are in the last phase of preparation! Be patient dear fans and friends we promise we'll not let you down. It's cool to be part of this project even we will have to work days and nights to complete it.

Battle of Long-lived Clan

Ok here's some insider information about the content! Previously we mentioned that Ghastly appeared in the Deadmire where he defeated Bloodline and there will be a great battle between the Long-lived Clan and the disciples of the Righteous Path!

Just as the Long-lived Clan moved its base near Deadmire and with great luck a rare and powerful ancient treasure appeared in that place. Yu Yangzi of the Long-lived Clan of course would do anything to get the treasure. Ten years ago he was severely wounded in the Battle of GreenCloud Mountain now a long waited chance for vengeance was finally here!

Well that sounds way too easy. Of course there will be more battles and conflicts! Both followers of the Heretic and the Righteous Paths are eyeing on the treasure and there will be great wars ahead.

Yu Yangzi will be caught in the midst of battles and he shall face the wrath of the followers of the Righteous Path!

Celestial Destroyer fans will witness the battle between Yu Yangzi from Long-lived Clan and followers from the Righteous Path (GreenCloud Clan, SkyTang Temple and Incense Vale) in Deadmire! Prepare for the deadly battles between Lin Jinyu, Lu Xuegi and those of the Heretic Sects. The life of Yu Yangzi will be in grave danger.

What will become of Yu Yangzi when the raging Dragon Slaying Sword and the fatal Ivoire Sword are unleashing their furies?

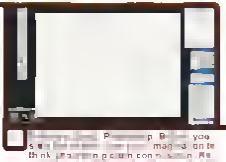
Comixo

First Digital Drawing Demo

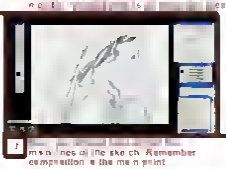
Comixo Studio proudly presents the first Digital Drawing Tutorial. Let's make a sketch of the charming Lu Xueqi in our first lesson! This tutorial is a monochrome character sketch. The drawing process is mainly composed of

Lu Xue Qi



1 Please open Photoshop. Select your favorite brush and begin to sketch the outlines of the character's face.

2 Use the Eraser tool to erase the unnecessary lines. At this step you can make any adjustment until you are satisfied.

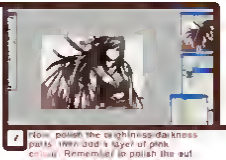


3 Continue to refine the sketch. Remember to pay attention to the main proportions of the face.

4 Use a brush of smaller size to refine the expression, the curves and the hair lines.

5 The major lines should be completed at this step.

6 Differentiate the brightness and darkness with different levels. I'm using grey brown to colour the shadow.



7 Now, polish the brightness/darkness parts. Then add a layer of pink colour. Remember to polish the outlines to make it clean and clear.

8 After that, you can use brightness and contrast to adjust black and white of the sketch, and emphasize the light and shadow. Now, the monochrome character portrait of Lu Xueqi is finished!

Comixo Hits Game Magazine

JANUARY2009

Spread page for Comixo and Magazine Cover

Are you a reader of Games Magazine? If you are always keeping an eye on this magazine you will know that Comixo has just made a very first appearance in the Games Magazine published in January 2009 Vol 54

Our appearance in the magazine marked a milestone and a new start for us. It is really something awesome to see our studio reached the readers in the magazine!

Comixo Studio is presented in the 2-page spread in this magazine. The pages basically talks about Celestial Destroyer, our main martial art fantasy comic and gave a brief introduction on Comixo. As a manner of fact, many readers get to know about Comixo Studio through Celestial Destroyer. This comic, based on a popular MMORPG of the same name, is our very first creation. We have pour in a lot of efforts to create this comic and we hope we will be able to publish Celestial Destroyer comic in printed form in the future. Yes our technology now makes reading comic in front of the computer screen a common part of our life but many of us still like the feel of holding a printed book in our hands. It is more precious to have something you can hold with ours hands.

Interview with Ben

Other than introducing Comixo Studio and the Celestial Destroyer comic, the magazine also has an exclusive interview with Ben, the founder of Comixo. In the interview, Ben shares his experience and thoughts about games. Ben says, playing games does help to make us more creative. But he emphasized the influence will turn negative if we get addicted to games. Nowadays, games and comics are closely bound to each other. Many comics have been adapted into games and vice versa. So, we do hope in the future some of our comics can be made into games. I mean, who knows our comic Forever Gardener might be adapted to a fantastic romance type of game? We truly have faith this would happen! It is hard to explain how excited we are now! Most importantly, We will keep on producing more fascinating creations for our dear readers.

We feel very grateful to Games Magazine. Go and get a copy, you will see exclusive things that we have never revealed to anyone before!

CAR AND SPEED

How do we define car? A convenient transport? A symbol of your status in the society? Or is it a tool to attract the opposite sex?

It is intoxicating to accelerate your dream car on the endless road- it pumps our heart faster and sometimes literally gel on our nerves It's all too human to love excitement!

Usually men can't resist car racing any kind of car racing be they big or small Though they are not the drivers They always imagine themselves as the ultimate car racers

It's all about the need for speed Being focus is vital for a speed racer the faster the speed the more focus we need Time seems to stand still and everyth ng seems to slow down when we are one with the speed It causes adrenal n rush and makes you become like a whirlwind like a hurricane It's an indescribable almost transcendental experience

And this came with a dear price In our desire of speed sometimes we ignore our own safety and it is precisely because of this some put their lives in danger

There was a time when Initial D became a hot topic, we are so addicted to car modification and drifting Drifting is a kind of driving technique where the driver intentionally oversteers but if anything goes wrong it spells disaster It is a technique where you need practice practice and more practice even the tiniest details needs to cannot be ignored. Professionals are highly respected nowadays but you will always have these idiots that think they are professionals and that's how tragedies started

So this is human full of contradictory we love risking our lives just to enjoy the excitement, and sometimes we ignore or pretend the ignore the danger that lurks behind
